If the reference does not make clear which is which, clarification should be made in the text.

If the interview transcript is published in a periodical such as a magazine, print or online, cite the interview in the same way you would cite the medium where it is published.

If an interview is not retrievable in audio or print form, cite the interview only in the text (not in the References list) and provide the month, day, and year in the text.

Basic Rules for APA “References” List

For illustrations of the following rules, see entries in the Sample "References" list.

1. Format (Publication Manual 9.43)

- The list of all the sources you cited in your paper is called "References."
- Only the sources you cited in your paper go into the “References” list.
- The "References" list goes on a separate sheet at the end of your paper, with the word "References" centered at the top (without quotation marks).
- Double-space the "References" list.
- Use hanging indents for each entry (i.e., indent all lines after the first line of each entry, ½" inch from the left margin).
- Order the “References” list entries alphabetically by the first word in the entry, usually the author’s last name.

For variations, see Publication Manual 9.44 - 9.48.

- Order multiple works by same author(s) by year of publication.
See Stiles entries.
- Order multiple works by same author(s) and publication year by title and add lowercase letter after the year (e.g., 2020a, 2020b).
See Stiles entries.

2. Names (Publication Manual 9.8 - 9.11)

- Invert all authors' names (i.e., give last or family name first).

DARE TO DO MORE

The logo for CUNY (City University of New York), consisting of the letters "CUNY" in a bold, sans-serif font.

- For all first and middle names, give initials only.
  - Add specialized roles in parentheses after a name. See Hygum entry.
  - Separate multiple authors by a comma; use an ampersand before the final author's name. See Diessner entry.
  - For a work with 21 or more authors, list the first 20 authors, insert an ellipsis ( . . . ), but no ampersand, and then add the last author's name. See Wiskunde entry.
3. No author listed (Publication Manual 9.12)
- Enter works with no author by title of the article, Web page, or book. See "Senate" entry.
4. Publication dates always go in parentheses, followed by a period. (Publication Manual 9.13, 9.14, 9.17)
- (year). – for a book or a scholarly journal. See Beer entry.
  - (year, Month or Season). or (year, Month, day). – for magazine or newspaper articles. See Brody, Karlis and "Senate" entries.
  - (n.d.). – for item with no date. See People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals entry.
5. Capitalization
- Titles of books, articles, and webpages: Capitalize only first word of title and subtitle and proper nouns.
  - Journal titles: Capitalize all major words
  - Compound words: Do not capitalize the second word. See Cantor entry.
6. Italics (Publication Manual 9.19, 9.25, 10.16)
- Italicize titles of stand-alone works (e.g., books, journals, webpages, and websites).
  - Do not italicize (or underline or put quotation marks around) works that are part of a larger whole (e.g., magazine or journal articles, essays or chapters in edited books).
  - Italicize periodical volume numbers.
7. Digital Object Identifier (DOI) (Publication Manual 9.34 – 9.35)
- Always provide DOI, if available
  - Provide DOIs as hyperlinks. Thus: http://doi.org/... or https://doi.org/...
  - Prefer DOI to a Uniform Resource Locator (URL).
  - If there is no DOI, provide the URL as a live hyperlink. Database name is needed only in limited circumstances.
  - Do not add period after the DOI or the URL
- See Basu, Cantor, Stiles, and Wiskunde entries.
12. Personal communications (Publication Manual 8.9)
- Because personal communications, including interviews and emails, do not provide "recoverable data," they are not included in the "References" list.
  - Cite personal communications only in the text.

Examples: E.-M. Paradis (personal communication, August 8, 2019) . . .
or (T. Nguyen, personal communication, February 24, 2020)

Citation Abbreviations (Publication Manual 9.50)

Publication Part:	Abbreviation

Basic Rules for In-Text Citations

- Quotes with fewer than 40 words
- Quotes with more than 40 words
- Paraphrases or summaries

DARE TO DO MORE

CU
NY

APA Style uses a combination of “parenthetical” citations and “narrative” citations for quoting or paraphrasing a work. Complete bibliographical information is given only once, in the bibliography called "References" on a separate page at the end of the paper (see Basic Rules for APA "References" List).

Types of In-Text Citations (Publication Manual 8.11)

Parenthetical citations provide author name(s) and publication date in parentheses, usually at the end of a sentence. The author is not directly mentioned in the text.

Example:

Researchers have studied children and early adolescents to quantify the extent to which "depression predicts later depression" (Tram & Cole, 2006, p. 674).
[parenthetical citation]

Narrative citations: Author is mentioned directly in the text, followed by the date in parentheses.

Example:

Tram and Cole (2006) studied children and early adolescents to quantify the extent to which "depression predicts later depression" (p. 674). [narrative citation]

References

Tram, J. M., & Cole, D. A. (2006). A multimethod examination of the stability of depressive symptoms in childhood and adolescence. Journal of Abnormal Psychology, 115(4), 674–686. <https://doi.org/10.1037/0021-843X.115.4.674>

Quotes with fewer than 40 words (Publication Manual 8.26):

Example:

Researchers have studied children and early adolescents to quantify the extent to which "depression predicts later depression" (Tram & Cole, 2006, p. 674). [parenthetical citation]

or

Tram and Cole (2006) studied children and early adolescents to quantify the extent to which "depression predicts later depression" (p. 674). [narrative citation]

References

Tram, J. M., & Cole, D. A. (2006). A multimethod examination of the stability of depressive symptoms in childhood and adolescence. Journal of Abnormal Psychology, 115(4), 674–686. <https://doi.org/10.1037/0021-843X.115.4.674>

Instructions:

1. Incorporate the quote into the text of the paper.
2. Enclose in quotation marks with punctuation outside the parenthesis.
3. Give these three elements:
  - a. Author's last name - either in the text or in parentheses after the closing quotation mark;
  - b. Year of publication - after the author's name, wherever the name appears; and
  - c. Page numbers - in the parentheses after the closing quotation mark, preceded by the abbreviation p. or pp. (without italics).
If page numbers are not available, give the paragraph number, if visible, preceded by the abbreviation para. (without italics) or include the section subheading and count the paragraphs. If neither of these options exists, include only the author's last name and date.

Quotes with more than 40 words (block quotations) (Publication Manual 8.27):

Example:

Rodriguez (2005) argued that:

while European experiences generally had a beginning and an end, Mexican immigration has been virtually continuous for the past century.

DARE TO DO MORE

CU
NY

This has made the process of Mexican integration a perpetual one. But this dynamic hasn't so much retarded assimilation as it has sown confusion in the formulation of political and cultural identities. (p. 35)

Because there has been a steady wave of immigration from Mexico to the United States, assimilated Mexican-Americans have had a more challenging time trying to gain acceptance as Americans rather than foreigners.

References

Rodriguez, G. (2005, May 30). Why we're the new Irish: Mexican-Americans, too, began apart--and are now a thread in the tapestry. Newsweek, 145(22), 35.

Instructions:

1. Use a block quotation. (Start on a new line, indent by a half inch, and double space.)
2. Do not enclose in quotation marks.
3. Give these three elements:
  - a. Author's last name - either in the text before the block quotation or in parentheses after the final punctuation mark of the block quotation;
  - b. Year of publication - after the author's name, wherever the name appears;
  - c. Page numbers - in the parentheses after the final punctuation mark of the block quotation, preceded by the abbreviation p. or pp. (without italics). If page numbers are not available, give the paragraph number, if visible, preceded by the abbreviation para. (without italics) or include the section subheading and count the paragraphs. If neither of these options exists, include only the author's last name and date.

Paraphrases or summaries (Publication Manual 8.23-8.24):

Example:

In a study tracking fifth and sixth graders over four years, Tram and Cole (2006) found no significant differences in the stability of depressive symptoms between adolescent girls and boys (p. 682).

Instructions:

1. Always give two elements:

DARE TO DO MORE

CU
NY

- a. Author's last name - either in the text or in parentheses after the paraphrase or summary; and
  - b. Year of publication - either in the text or in parentheses after the paraphrase or summary.
2. Page numbers, if available, are optional but recommended.

Chart of In-Text Citation

The table below gives examples of the most common in-text citations, with their corresponding "References."

Paraphrased citation: Author is not mentioned directly in the text.

Author, date, and page numbers appear in parentheses, usually at end of the sentence.

Narrative citation: Author is mentioned directly in the text.

Date appears in parentheses after author's name, page numbers in parentheses after quotation.
